

GROWERS CHARGE GOV'T DISCRIMINATION

Oliver Girl, 8 Drowns

A little Oliver girl Wednesday evening drowned in six feet of water while her relatives stood on the beach helpless because they were unable to swim.

The girl, Carol Elizabeth Stich, eight, was attending a picnic at the time of the accident.

She drowned on Tuc-Et-Nuit Lake, one mile northeast of Oliver, at 5 p.m.

An inquiry into the tragedy will be held by the RCMP.

Funeral Services will be conducted from the St. Johns Lutheran Church in Oliver at 2 p.m. Sunday, Reverend Karl Lenkersdorf will officiate.

Interment will follow in the Oliver Cemetery.

Graham Funeral Home are in charge of arrangements.

Water Supply Setup Change Gets Support

Strong support for the idea of a change in system for municipally-owned and operated water supply systems, and a recommendation for an entirely new body to take care of this problem were tandem suggestions arising out of a Vernon resolution at the Okanagan Valley Municipal Association meeting in Summerland yesterday.

Acting-Mayor F. V. Harwood of Vernon moved the resolution, which pointed out that some B.C. communities, short of water, are threatened with, or being compelled to supply fringe areas outside the community boundaries, simply because in previous years, they had supplied others.

It was pointed out that where a municipal government supplies just one person with water or other services outside its own legal limits, it automatically places itself under the jurisdiction of the Public Utilities Commission.

Alderman J. Monk of Vernon outlined the circumstances that brought about Vernon's dilemma. He said that the city had paid for rights-of-way for its water mains, where these pass through territory just outside the city, by allowing those giving the right-of-way "a half-inch connection", instead of paying for these in cash. Now the civic

Major Civic Problems Spark Hot Debates At Municipal Sessions

Prelude to the annual session of the Union of B.C. municipalities, which will convene in Penticton later this year, the quarterly session of the Okanagan Valley Municipal Association covered a wide range of civic problems in a short, but pithy session in Summerland yesterday afternoon.

STEEL STRIKE SETTLED TODAY
NEW YORK — (BUP) — The 27-day steel strike was settled today but the nation's steel workers will not return to the mills until early next week.

Topics discussed included domestic water problems, means of financing the Public Utilities Commission's advent into municipally-owned cemeteries, and Mica Creek dam.

RED HOT DEBATE
Some of the hottest debate concerned a resolution from Vernon, proposing that aldermanic and councillor emoluments be stepped up. All agreed that some such move is essential, but could not agree that it should come from the body that is directly composed of those who will benefit from the increases suggested.

Alderman Elsie MacCleave said that the move would be better if it came from Boards of Trade and Junior Chambers of Commerce, rather than from the group directly concerned.

Vernon's acting mayor, F. V. Harwood, favored the plan for the increase, but his fellow delegate, Alderman J. Monk, opposed it.

Both Alderman Elsie MacCleave and Alderman E. A. Titchmarsh, the only two council members from Penticton voted against the suggestion.

Core of the resolution: that the stipend paid the aldermen and councillors be fifty percent of that paid to the reeves and mayors in each case. It was carried, but only by a narrow majority.

Strong criticism of the Public Utilities Commission both for its alleged "inter"

Vees Win Another One?

You can't say the Vees don't keep Penticton in the news.

Yesterday, it was revealed that the World championship hockey trophy at the Warwick's Cafe is the real one and that the Russians this year won only a replica.

In rapid fire order, these things took place.

Bill Warwick, the man allegedly responsible for the trophy-switching, refused to confirm the story.

The Russian embassy's spokesman said the real trophy belongs to the Russians and they should have it by right. The Warwick's should get the replica.

Secretary-manager of the long-suffering Canadian Amateur Hockey Association said he didn't like the trophy-switching and wants to make arrangements for the cup to be returned.

Clem Bird Bids For Park Board Vacancy

TO RECEIVE FREEDOM OF CITY ON SATURDAY

The Freedom of the City of Penticton will be conferred on Miss Mary Appleton, in token of her services as health nurse both here and in the Okanagan, at a public banquet this Saturday, at 12:30 p.m. in Prince Charles Hotel.

She has had at least 17 years service in the Okanagan, all the way from Armstrong south to Penticton.

Clem Bird announced today that he is willing to run as a Parks Commissioner to replace the vacancy created by the resignation of Commissioner H. H. Wickett.

Mr. Bird was president of the Penticton Hockey Association for two seasons, 1954 and 1955. He is employed at P. E. Knowles Real Estate.

His nomination was submitted by T. H. Ushorne, seconded by Clifford Greyell.

Mr. Wickett tendered his resignation from the four-man board about two weeks ago. (Continued on Page Five)

Inspect TV Tower Sites

Engineers from RCA Victor and company are presently in the Okanagan finalizing sites in Vernon, Kelowna and Penticton for establishment of television stations in the three towns.

B. R. Machum of Montreal and Ralph Marsh of Vancouver met with directors of the Okanagan Valley Television Company Limited yesterday afternoon.

Plans for television in the Okanagan was indicated in the presentation of technical briefs and equipment requirements by the engineers.

Directors of the television company are optimistic that television will be brought to the valley in the near future.

It is expected that a main station in the central Okanagan with satellites in the north and south areas will mean that good coverage will be obtained in all major centres and good reception is expected in Penticton without an expensive outside antenna.

Mr. Machum of Montreal and Mr. Marsh of Vancouver, will be inspecting the Penticton site northeast of Naramata, Thursday afternoon.

Dental Clinic Setup Discussed

Institution of a dental clinic program for district school children was discussed at Wednesday night's meeting of Penticton School Board.

Report from a special committee said that the board must first decide if it is prepared to get up a dental clinic, and then endeavour to obtain the services of an interested dentist, and set up a clinic administration.

If the board decides to proceed with a dental clinic program, it will approach the dental faculty of the University of B.C. to determine the availability of graduate dentists who would be interested in a dental clinic practice for September next year.

30-Year Service Badge Presented To BPOE Member

A 30-year service pin was presented to Elks' members R. J. Pollock at the last meeting of the BPOE No. 51, Penticton branch, before the summer recess.

Mr. Pollock joined the benevolent order in 1924 at Portage La Prairie.

When he moved to Vancouver in 1926, he affiliated himself with that branch, BPOE No. 1.

After moving to Penticton in 1945 he joined the local branch and has continued as a member of BPOE No. 51 ever since then.

Mr. Pollock is the oldest living member of the Penticton branch.

Non-Confidence Vote Registered

A vote of non-confidence in the federal department of agriculture was voiced unanimously by the some 75 growers attending the combined meeting of the Penticton-Kaleden district BCFGA locals in the Prince Charles Hotel last night.

The growers charged on four counts that the federal government is discriminating against fruit growers in favor of the "more politically powerful industrial segments of the Canadian economy", in favor of the wholesalers and retailers who treat consumers "shabbily".

Further, during the 3½ hour-long session where growers gave full vent to their feelings, a resolution was passed asking that the federation of agriculture take such drastic action as calling a nation-wide stoppage of all deliveries of agricultural produce to draw attention of the farmers' plight to the people and government of Canada.

This resolution originated in a recent meeting of the Southern Council of the BCFGA.

On the positive side, the growers went on record as favoring that Agricultural Minister K. W. Kiernan implement his offer of an economist to hold an inquiry into the Okanagan Fruit Industry. "The sooner the better," said growers.

They also asked that the minister make use of the services offered by the federal department of agriculture, as mentioned in a recently published letter of provincial Liberal leader Arthur Laing, M.L.A., B.S.A.

They also passed a resolution that the Okanagan fruit farmers be given an "adequate floor price" for their produce.

The meeting expressed complete disagreement with the present loaning policy of Canadian banks.

"Trees take 10 to 15 years to grow, and we can't afford to replace trees of unwanted varieties. We need long-term loans to do this," commented Mr. King.

Dr. Welsh Heads Plant Pathology Lab At Summerland

SUMMERLAND — Effective August 1, Dr. M. F. Welsh will be head of the Plant Pathology Laboratory at Summerland.

He is a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. H. F. Welsh, and succeeds Dr. H. R. McLarty who retires this summer after 37 years in office.

Dr. Welsh attended Summerland schools and graduated from UBC with a B.S.A. degree and the David Thom bursary in 1938. At Toronto University where he obtained his doctorate he won a scholarship each year: 1939, the Reuben Wells Leonard Scholarship; 1940, Canadian National Research Council Studentship; 1941, Canadian National Research Council Fellowship; 1942, the Elizabeth Ann Wintercorbyn Award.

$340,000 Loss On Apple Crop

A loss of at least 43 cents per apple box or a total of $340,628 for the 500 growers comprising the Penticton district was sustained on last year's crop, stated Avery King, president of the district BCFGA local last night in the Prince Charles Hotel.

Mr. King carried out a recent survey among five representative packinghouses in the Naramata-Kaleden-Penticton area to see what returns the farmers received in the 1955 apple crop.

He told the general meeting of the Penticton district local that plants paid growers approximately 92 cents per box, yet the average grower paid out $1.35 in costs for raising each packed box.

The difference between returns and costs per box was a loss of 43 cents.

Mr. King said the figures were only approximate and felt that the return of 92 cents was "somewhat high". Some growers said that they received as low as 19cents and 13 cents per box.

AN EDITORIAL

The Farmers Dilemma

Now is the time for citizens and governments alike to take sober thought and call a halt to the headlong rushing and enthusiastic hand-rubbing over the expansion and construction plans of industry.

It is now time for us to look at conditions facing the primary producers, the farmers — particularly the fruit growers, was the food for serious thought that evolved from a meeting of the combined Kaleden-Penticton locals of the BCFGA.

The growers really sliced at the core of Canadian bank loan policies during their three hours of discussion.

At the heart of their debate was a feeling that agriculture is being discriminated against in favor of industry.

Complaints of some of the growers that the 600 laborers to be hired for the building of the natural gas pipeline, will dangerously deprive orchards of pickers, hit at the roots of the present inflationary problem.

Their strong complaints found support Wednesday in remarks of the governor of the Bank of Canada who has the responsibility of watching the safety valves of the economy, the monetary controls.

The governor said in effect that the present industrial boom is throttling the resources of Canada — its labor, its capital, and its land.

He called on Canadian businessmen to hold back on their construction programs.

As the growers said, it is definitely unfair to allow one segment to boom ahead with inflationary zeal and so jeopardize the primary and backbone section of the economy, the farmers.

Because everything in the economy seems to be geared to industry, therefore every segment including agriculture has had to face the same monetary controls which in practice have meant a boost in interest rates from 5½ to 6 percent for all borrowers.

The growers noted that the U.S. government, on the other hand, allows loans up to $25,000 for farmers at 2½ percent interest with a repayment period of 15 years.

In Canada at present, the anti-inflation controls of monetary authorities circulate through the whole economy — not just tempering down the construction plans of industry, but pinching the farmers with extreme harshness.

CIVIC IMPROVEMENTS INCREASING

Low Cost Loans Advanced

Urgent need of low cost loans for municipalities, not only in the Okanagan, but throughout B.C. was outlined by Reeve F. E. Atkinson of Summerland in a resolution introduced at the Okanagan Valley Municipal Association quarter meeting yesterday.

The resolution as presented, points out that many towns are growing with extreme rapidity, and, if carried out under accepted town planning methods, will involve larger building lots, and other factors designed to eliminate undue crowding.

Such expanded homesteads mean that water mains, electric power lines, streets and sidewalks have to "travel farther" to serve the same number of people that used to be compressed into a much smaller area, when building lots, instead of being from 70 to 80 feet wide, were only 25 and 30 feet in width. This imposes a greater cost on the city or municipality.

"The cost of services, which should be on a self-liquidating basis, often cannot be afforded by the municipal government concerned," the resolution stated, adding "Whereas it has not been possible to obtain assistance from the federal Municipal Improvement Assistance Act" (Continued on Page Five)

Paying For Progress

Two entirely different ideas dealing with civic financing were advanced at yesterday's meeting of the Okanagan Valley Municipal Association. Neither was entirely new yet both will merit more than a passing consideration.

One suggested the "thawing" of the two percent money that the federal government made available to municipalities during the depression years, for self liquidating projects. The federal act that brought this into being has never been repealed, but the money, long since paid back 100 cents on the dollar, has been "frozen" for some years.

The other suggested that, in the case of the pressing demands for increases in the domestic water supply, a B.C. Commission (along the lines of the B.C. Power Commission) be established which would borrow the needed money, and build the required installations.

Each of these ideas has considerable value and could mean the difference for many harassed civic governments, between having to deny their taxpayers many big items, and placing their cities on a sound, safe basis. There was some suggestion that the two percent money would obviate the need for the water commission. But a somewhat closer examination of the conditions and needs would tend to show that each has its place if the communities in this province are to keep pace with the industrial expansion that lies ahead.

There is no question but that the cheap loans, for self-liquidating projects would benefit practically every city in this province. It would mean that quick money could be found for new and extended sewer systems; more efficient electrical distribution plans, where these are municipally owned. And it certainly would mean that roads and parks, on local improvement plans could be speeded up and expanded more than a little.

If the federal government is continuing to padlock this fund with the idea that freeing it might set up some form of civic inflation, and too easy spending, it is doing so with a mistaken, if not false economy. The money does not belong to the government, but to the people that government was elected to serve. And it is quite apparent that the people, in the many collectives known as civic governments, cannot obtain, through these administrations, many of the services they urgently need, because of the limitations imposed upon the civic bodies by provincial and federal restraints and limitations of powers.

Thus it would be quite simple to impose sufficient controls on the two percent loans so that the money would not be foolishly spent. And denying the use of this money, which comes from the general purse via taxation for the most part, may both seriously hamper the development of urbanization and provision of amenities to smaller communities.

It is, therefore, quite clear that there can be little argument against this low-cost loan system. But what of the other idea, the suggested setting-up of a B.C. Water Commission, along the lines of the existing Power Commission?

Scrutiny of this shows there are both good and bad features in it. On the one hand, the municipal governments are complaining bitterly of "too much governmental interference". And certainly some of those same communities, now served by the B.C. Power Commission are not too happy with the manner in which this body is serving them.

On the opposite side is the fact that many of these same civic administrations simply cannot afford to install the type of domestic water and/or irrigation system that wisdom would dictate. And certainly, even with low-cost loans payment for the most beneficial schemes it would take a great many years, and might seriously hamper financing of other equally-needed, short-term items. When water has to be conveyed 20 or 30 miles by canal or pipe it may impose a crippling financial burden on the small-to-medium community.

Then, too, as was suggested by some of those advancing this plan, there would be added benefits. Through its much greater borrowing power, the commission could serve areas that no city could reach or possibly supply, if they would retain autonomy of usage of the water supply. It could mean that new communities, and certainly new irrigation areas would be opened up, placing more land within the sphere of economic production.

To sum it up, it would seem that there are merits in both ideas, if both are established on sound foundations. And that through both of them many communities would not only be relieved of almost unbearable financial burdens, but that both they, and the areas around them, would prosper and benefit considerably.

Helping To Harvest

Within a few weeks the bulk of the Okanagan's fruit production, its apple crop, will be starting to ripen, and, if district growers are to get paid for their months of labor, the crop must be harvested.

Obviously, they cannot do this without help; and equally certain is the fact that they cannot compete with industry and construction, which have been offered as high as $1.72 an hour for unskilled help. No orchardist can pay that kind of money, and hope to sell his fruit within the limits of what the consumer will pay for it.

Some form of voluntary aid is essential, if the grower is to get the tree off the trees and into the packinghouses. Such voluntary aid will be paid, for the grower does not want charity, even if he cannot afford the "going wage".

Such voluntary aid, to be fully effective, must be on an organized basis, and it is gratifying to learn that the City Council, Board of Trade and the BCFGA are teaming up to establish the required organization.

Yet no matter how well they organize, no matter how streamlined their system for channelling help to the right places is, it will fail utterly unless the entire community shares in the actual work of getting in the harvest.

Already organized labor has indicated that it will provide considerably more than token aid. It is willing to place a considerable force at the call of the committee. Thus it now behooves the general citizen to be on the alert to do his part, both individually, and in cooperation with others — most particularly with his own employees.

By getting an early start on the organization, the central group will be in position to work effectively. It is hoped that the general public will be equally as effectual in volunteering the needed labor.

THESE FOLDERS WILL TELL THE STORY explains Howard Patton, secretary-manager of the Penticton Board of Trade to Mr. and Mrs. William Radomske just before they leave for a seven-month tour of Canada and the U.S. The trailer was built by Mr. Radomske during his spare time this winter. Penticton Board of Trade painted the banner on the sides to advertise the "City of Beaches and Peaches." The couple have lived in the district since 1936.

Group Seeks End Of PUC Cemetery Control Powers

"We of the executive of the Union of B.C. Municipalities feel this encroachment a breach of faith on the part of the Minister of Municipal Affairs," said Mayor J. E. Fitzwater, speaking to the Okanagan Valley Municipal Association on the Vernon resolution opposing Public Utilities Commission advent into administration of municipally owned and operated cemeteries.

"The minister promised that municipally operated cemeteries would not be included," continued Mayor Fitzwater who also asked about a letter dealing with the problem from the PUC. Even remarks made, it was apparent that few if any of the communities had received this letter.

The resolution stated that the imposition of control over municipal cemeteries is a violation of municipal autonomy and is inconsistent with the principles of local self government. It called for the Okanagan Valley Municipal Association, through the Union of British Columbia Municipalities, to strongly protest the imposition of control over municipally owned and operated cemeteries, particularly in view of the assurance given, and to request the provincial government to immediately remove the powers of the Public Utilities Commission to regulate and control municipal cemeteries.

Acting Mayor F. V. Harwood of Vernon said that the municipalities had been asked to "go along with the idea" of PUC control "for a time".

"We feel that once we do go along, we'll never be able to get out. From my knowledge, the municipalities are doing a good job with this and therefore I see no reason for the suggested supervision. Instead I regard it as unnecessary and unwarranted interference."

"When legislation of this kind is brought in, there is usually some reason, or reasoning behind it," said Reeve F. E. Atkinson of Summerland. "But in this instance there seems to be none."

When it was put to a vote, the Vernon resolution was endorsed unanimously.

Dr. Welsh Heads

In November 1945, Dr. Welsh has studied at the Plant Pathology Lab at East Malling in Kent.

It was as a student laborer that he first entered the Summerland Lab in 1935, continuing during the summers until 1941.

He was made a staff member in 1945.

His particular field is the study of virus diseases in fruit trees. Dr. Welsh is a member of the Canadian and the American Phytopathological Societies; the American Association for the Advancement of Science; the Agricultural Institute of Canada; the B.C. Institute of Agrologists; and the Professional Institute of Public Service of Canada.

Provinces Study Federal Hospital Insurance Plans

OTTAWA, (BUP) — Health Minister Paul Martin declared Thursday night the government was not retreating from its hospital insurance proposals, but was waiting for Ontario's answer to the federal offer.

Martin appealed for a cooperative attitude towards the federal plan to pay half the cost of hospital and diagnostic coverage if at least six provinces representing at least half the Canadian population agrees. The plan would require either Ontario or Quebec's participation.

"The next step," Martin said, "is up to the provinces to decide."

He pointed out that the three most western provinces — British Columbia, Alberta and Saskatchewan — had agreed.

Martin said he met Premier Leslie Frost of Ontario recently, and had a "useful, helpful, and constructive" talk with him about hospital insurance. As a result, he said, he hoped Ontario would announce acceptance of the federal plan with "no undue delay."

"The federal government does not intend to put any condition on any province on how its portion of the costs should be raised," Martin said. This was in reply to Ross Thatcher (L-Moose Jaw-Lake Center), who said the provincial shares should be raised by individual personal contributions.

Last Rites For Mrs. M. M. Clark

SUMMERLAND — Funeral services were conducted today at 10 a.m. in St. Stephens Anglican Church, West Summerland for Mrs. Minnie Mildred Clark who died in Summerland on July 26.

Officiating was: Reverend A. A. T. Northrup.

Committal followed in Lakeview Cemetery at Penticton.

Penticton Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Clark was born in Chatham, Kent, and has resided in B.C. for 36 years.

She is survived by her husband, Charles John and one daughter, Mildred Minnie.

NO "BASEBALL LOOK"

INDIANAPOLIS, (UPI) — The "baseball look" is inconsistent with the dignity of the police force here, according to Chief Frank A. Mueller. Mueller used these words in blasting the recent practice among patrolmen of cutting off their new summer shirts from elbow length sleeves to very short, or no sleeves. Patrolmen were ordered to buy new shirts if they are not able to find a way to replace the missing sleeves.

The Corporation Of The City Of Penticton NOTICE OF BY-ELECTION

PUBLIC NOTICE is hereby given to the electors of the Municipality of Penticton that I require the presence of the said electors at the Municipal Council Chamber 101 Main Street, Penticton, B.C., on the 6th day of August between 10 a.m. and 12 noon, for the purpose of electing a person to represent them as Parks Board Commissioner for H. H. Wickell's unexpired term.

THE MODE OF NOMINATION of Candidates shall be as follows:

THE CANDIDATES shall be nominated in writing; the writing shall be subscribed by two electors of the municipality as proposer and seconder, and shall be delivered to the Returning Officer at any time between the date of the notice and twelve o'clock noon of the day of nomination; the said writing may be in the form numbered 3 in the Schedule of the "Municipal Elections Act", and shall state the names, residence, and occupation or description of each person proposed, in such manner as sufficiently to identify such candidate; and in the event of a poll being necessary, such poll shall be opened on Saturday the eleventh day of August, 1956, between the hours of eight o'clock in the forenoon and eight o'clock in the afternoon at the rear of the Bandshell, Cyro Park, 50 Marlin Street, Penticton, B.C., of which every person is hereby required to take notice and govern himself accordingly.

Returning Officer.

Colored Cards On Fruit Maturity Is For Use Of Growers

SUMMERLAND — Growers are to have help in determining fruit maturity by the use of pocket-size cards picturing in color different fruits and their maturities.

A bulletin has been printed by the Cannery Committee of B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd., working with the inspection service and committees representing the growers, shippers and canners. Similar cards for separate fruits are to be distributed to growers.

General chairman was F. E. Atkinson, Summerland; Eric Tait, Summerland, heading the growers' committee; Charlie Morgan of Oliver, for the shippers, and H. J. Barkwill, Summerland, representing the canners.

The book is for the use of growers and not for inspection purposes. It has been approved by the Production Department of B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd. Stone Fruits' Maturity Committee of 1955, and the Pomology and Processing departments of the Canada Experimental Farm, Summerland.

VANCOUVER (BUP) — Mayor Fred Hume has accepted invitation to be commodore of Kelowna regatta in August.

MRS. HAROLD MITCHELL

W.I. Provides Assistance At Agricultural Show

Many activities and seasonal projects are keeping members of the Penticton Women's Institute very busy these warm summer days. Once again they are giving their support to the annual Peach Festival by assisting with the Agricultural Exhibition to be held in conjunction with the Rotary Industrial Exhibition at the Memorial Arena, August 16, 17 and 18.

The members under the convener'ship of president Mrs. Guy Brock are prepared to help in various ways. Last week they met with agricultural show chairman, H. W. Montague, to assemble and staple the prize lists.

They will also assist during and prior to the three-day show with the sections featuring home cooking, fancy work, arts, hobbies, canning, fruits and vegetables and miscellaneous articles. The institute and a number of individual members are providing prizes for various classes. A total of six dollars will be awarded in three prizes for three items of baking containing three varieties of Okanagan fruit. These prizes are being donated by the W.I. Mrs. A. A. Swift, Mrs. Harry Edwards and Mrs. J. A. Rodell are giving three prizes in many classes.

A special water color sketch for most points won in classes 1 to 18 will be donated by Mrs. V. B. Robinson, another WI member. Other current activities for the members centre around the quilt being made for entry in the forthcoming Pacific National Exhibition at Vancouver. The beautiful quilt was removed from the frames on Tuesday and is now ready for the finishing stitches. Mrs. Mabel Crossley designed the pattern for the quilt, while the cover of rose and gold satin was made by Mrs. A. M. MacLachlan.

An honorary member, Mrs. M. Atkinson has served afternoon tea during the several weeks the workers have been at the quilting frames.

The Penticton members won the PNE cup for their quilt entry last year, the first time the trophy has come to the interior. If they should be fortunate enough to win again this year the cup will remain in their possession.

A Missionary From Cuba Spends Furlough At Home In Sum'land

SUMMERLAND — Here on furlough is Miss Mable Henderson, a missionary from Cuba. Miss Henderson opened and operated the Maywood Studio before going into missionary work. She graduated from Bible School in Springfield, Missouri, in May 1954, assisting a Pentecostal pastor at Wallaceburg, Ontario, during the summer months of that year.

In the fall she flew to Cuba and has been working among Cuban Nationals in Nuevitas, a city of the north coast.

Miss Henderson expects to return in the fall when she will be stationed on the eastern part of the island at Palma Soriano.

Photography is a hobby with her now in which she takes great pleasure. She is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Henderson, Jubilee Road, who accompanied her home after visiting their son in Ottawa for three months.

Jr. Hospital Auxiliary Kept Very Busy During Summer Recess Months

A summer recess for most women's clubs and organizations is planned fundamentally as a period of rest and relaxation for members, but not all groups can adhere to this "no-work arrangement." Locally the Junior Hospital Auxiliary members appear to be among those who find that many current and forthcoming projects demand their close attention during the summer months.

Each year the auxiliary enters a decorated float in the Penticton Peach Festival parade and the preparation of the float entails a great deal of work for the committee and many helpers. Regular work meetings will be held before the float is ready for the parade on August 17.

Mrs. J. G. H. Edwards is general convener of the float committee. Working with her are Mrs. A. H. Frazer, Mrs. Howard Duncan, Mrs. Wilson Hunt, Mrs. J. C. Edgar, Mrs. C. L. Coderstrand, Mrs. James Fleming, Mrs. R. V. White, Mrs. O. M. MacInnes, Mrs. Earl Martin, Mrs. D. J. Delves, Mrs. Roy Delves, Mrs. Roy Beckett, Mrs. T. W. Bryant, Mrs. A. F. Day, Mrs. Stuart Reekie, Mrs. W. Roy Walker, Mrs. R. W. Slade and Mrs. Louis Hohenadel, president of the Junior Hospital Auxiliary.

At an executive meeting held prior to a work session on Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. W. Roy Walker on Lakeshore Drive, tentative arrangements were made in respect to the annual fall cabaret dance scheduled for October 19.

"Blues in the Night" is the name chosen for the popular annual social highlight to be held in the Legion Hall under the convener'ship of Mrs. H. B. McGregor with Mrs. Walker as co-convener.

Family Camp Session To Start Saturday At LTS

NARAMATA — All 32 cottages at the Christian Leadership School have been reserved by those who will arrive in Naramata this weekend for the first two periods in the family camp session to commence on Saturday and conclude August 11. Several other groups will be accommodated in the main school building.

Rev. G. W. Payne of Nelson will be the director for this family session in summer school classes at the church school. Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Johnston of Claresholm, Alberta, are co-directors.

Miss Margaret Black of Vancouver will direct the vacation school which will have an active program provided for the 10 to 15 year group — craftshop, hiking and swimming.

Rev. Cameron Murray of Port Moody, formerly of Keremeos, will give a Bible background course. Rev. R. Douglas Smith, Edmonton, will lecture on "The Christian Family" and Rev. L. T. C. Harbour, Lethbridge, will direct a course for ministers, lay leaders and young people.

Gifts Hidden At Shower For Miss Cora Odell

Clever verses attached by ribbon streamers to a pretty corsage for Miss Cora Odell directed her to the many lovely hidden gifts at a miscellaneous shower for her on Friday at the home of Mrs. W. A. Marlow with Mrs. G. J. Winter as co-hostess.

Miss Odell will become the bride of Rees Vincent Barnes at a ceremony tomorrow evening in the Penticton United Church.

After the honoree had opened the many prettily packed gifts, a pleasant social with games and contests was concluded with the serving of delicious refreshments. Those present to honor the bride-to-be were her mother, Mrs. L. L. Odell, Miss Pauline Foster, who will be her bridesmaid; Mrs. J. R. Johnston; Mrs. W. A. Carse, Mrs. W. R. Carruthers, Mrs. B. B. Bathgate, Mrs. J. H. Stapleton, Mrs. W. A. Rathbun, Mrs. Jim Thom, Mrs. Frank Brodie, Mrs. W. H. Cumberland, Mrs. R. C. Dagg, Mrs. Allan Mather, Mrs. R. A. Patterson, Mrs. Howard Logan, Mrs. W. I. Betts, Mrs. George Lang, Mrs. John Lawson, Mrs. George Arsen, Mrs. Fred Kay, and the Misses Marie Odell, Helen and Janice Marlow.

Jehovah Convention At Victoria Next Week

Forty-six witnesses of Jehovah from this city with thousands of other delegates from all over British Columbia will converge in Victoria to attend the district convention to open in the Memorial Arena on August 1.

"It is one of a series of forty conventions to be held in Canada, Great Britain and the United States," said H. E. Matiks, presiding minister of the local congregation. It is expected over 9,000 will attend Sunday, August 5, to hear the main lecture of the convention by A. F. Danley of Toronto and a recent visitor in Penticton.

Gordon Trelliving of this city in explaining the purpose of these conventions said, "They are being held in central locations such as Victoria, Edmonton, Regina, Winnipeg and Spokane so that the distance is not too great for anyone to travel. We expect to receive helpful counsel and advice on Bible doctrine, conducting Bible studies, house-to-house preaching and organizational structure."

Mrs. Robert Kenzie left yesterday to join Mr. Kenzie at Vernon where he recently received a business transfer to assistant manager of the Safeway Store in that centre.

Which variety is the choice for pickling? Your selection of elder vinegar (made from apple juice) or white vinegar, is a matter of your family's good taste. Either are ideal for pickling. Elder vinegar has a mellow flavor; white vinegar may be preferred when making light colored pickles such as onions or cauliflower.

SAVORY SUGGESTION

Backyard barbecues and outdoor meals are excellent ways to beat the heat. Here's something that goes with supper on the lawn and summer menus just as bacon goes with eggs. These hot bread slices generously spread with herb-seasoned butter are such a tasty way to make meals interesting. They're the perfect accompaniment for summer salads or casseroles at company and family meals. Any kind of bread can be used, but this menu suggestion is especially tasty when the slices of a long, slender crusty loaf of French bread are spread with soft butter seasoned with basil, marjoram and thyme and then heated. The slices spread together to reform the loaf. The loaf is then wrapped in aluminum foil. The foil-wrapped loaf may be prepared ahead of time and stored in the refrigerator, if you prefer. For outdoor meals the loaf can be heated over the barbecue or in a 450 deg. F., oven for 15 minutes.

SAVORY BREAD SLICES

1 lb. butter (at room temperature)
1 teaspoon basil
1/2 teaspoon marjoram
1/4 teaspoon thyme
1 loaf enriched white bread, sliced
Preheat oven to 450 deg. F. (very hot). Cream butter. Blend in basil, marjoram and thyme. Let stand at room temperature at least half an hour. Spread each side of bread slices lightly with herb butter. Put slices together to reform loaf. Wrap loaf in foil. (Foil-wrapped loaf may be stored in refrigerator if desired, until serving time). To serve heat foil-wrapped loaf on barbecue or place in preheated oven for 15 minutes.

Former Pentictonite To Open Studio Here

Mrs. Ruby MacLean-Angus, LRSM, and two children Daphne and Charles have come from Castlegar to make their home in this city and are in temporary residence at Wright's Beach Camp at Skaha Lake.

Mrs. MacLean-Angus, who will open a studio here in September and is now receiving registrations for piano teaching, is no stranger to Penticton. As the former, Miss Ruby Young, she played a prominent part in local music circles and was very active with the Okanagan Valley Music Festival prior to leaving here about ten years ago.

Local Souvenirs For Convention In New York

Penticton Board of Trade tourists pamphlets describing the beauties of this Okanagan city and its many facilities and small sprigs of artificial peach blossoms are being taken by three local club women to the convention they will attend in New York city next week.

When three representatives of the Penticton Soroptimist International, Mrs. K. S. Bonham, president, Mrs. Kenneth Davenport and Miss Jean Bennest, left here yesterday they took the souvenirs to distribute at the Soroptimist International Association convention to be held at the Waldorf Astoria beginning August 3.

The Board of Trade booklets were recently prepared to publicize this community and have been placed in motels, hotels and other public centres for free distribution. They contain information in respect to recreational facilities in Penticton as well as its rapid industrial development.

The peach blossoms are made by members of the Soroptimist Club and sold to raise funds in support of their major senior citizen program. One hundred of these pretty everlasting sprigs were taken for distribution as favors at the convention.

Farewell Beach Party For Mrs. C. C. Roughton

NARAMATA — Mrs. Nelson Hewitt, Mrs. G. P. Tinker and Mrs. Sid Read were co-hostesses on Wednesday entertaining at a farewell beach party at the lakeside home of the former for Mrs. C. C. Roughton.

The honored guest with her children will leave Naramata on Sunday to join Mr. Roughton at Vancouver where they will take up residence.

Mr. and Mrs. Roughton have been very active in the local drama club since they came to Naramata to reside a little more than a year ago. Mr. Roughton received a business transfer to the coast last month.

Farewell Party Honors Two At Summerland

SUMMERLAND — Mrs. Howard Milne and Miss Barbara Braun were joint hostesses at a party held on Thursday evening to honor Mrs. A. E. Trayler and Mrs. H. R. McLarty.

Mr. and Mrs. Trayler are moving to Penticton next week after living in Summerland for nearly 50 years. On August 10, Dr. and Mrs. McLarty are going east to visit relatives in Ontario before taking an extended trip to England and other parts of Europe.

Miss Lorraine and Miss Lois Milne, who are cousins, presented Mrs. Trayler with a large picture of Summerland from those present, and Mrs. McLarty was given a pretty, colored umbrella.

Lorraine and Lois and Miss June Milne assisted in serving. Those invited were Mrs. Blake Milne, Mrs. Ed Krause, Mrs. Rosa Rau, Mrs. James Ritchie, Mrs. H. W. Brown, Mrs. C. A. Gayton, Mrs. V. Durnin, Mrs. Wilfred King, Mrs. John Smith, Mrs. Adam Arndt, Mrs. A. Cashman, Mrs. James Darke, Mrs. C. H. Elsey, Mrs. T. S. Tinning, Mrs. W. C. Wilkin, Mrs. H. Wouters, Miss Ruth Dale, Mrs. Nick and Mrs. Simon Buddingh, Mrs. W. M. Wright, and Mrs. E. Lekei.

FREAK ACCIDENT

ORIENT, S.D., (UP) — Mrs. Dave Mord was watching her son pilot his small plane when he flew under a wire upon landing and accidentally struck and snapped another. The severed wire struck Mrs. Mord on the neck and disrupted power and telephone service for two hours. She suffered minor injuries.

TROPHY TANGLE RE-OPENS COLD WAR

Surrey Hitters Too Powerful For Penticton Our Little Leaguers Knocked Out Of Playoffs

NEW WESTMINSTER — Penticton's Little League all stars were removed from this year's regional tournament here in the opening round on Thursday afternoon as Surrey marked up a 7-3 victory.

There was a particular assist for the winners from a rangy right-hander, Gene Nemitz. This Surrey pitcher has a lot of experience under his belt for he has, in an earlier season, pitched in a Little League World Series semi-final at Santa Monica.

Love's Lunch Entrenched In First As Babe Ruth Schedule Evened Up

The Babe Ruth schedule was evened up at 10 games all around Wednesday night and Love's Lunch was sitting solidly atop the standings after squeezing out a narrow 2-1 victory over Interior Contracting.

Interior committed only two errors, but those were vital. One let Al Richards score and the other let him get on base in position to score the second Love's Lunch run.

There could be no quarrel with the pitching. Harley Hatfield won with a one-hitter and loser Lyle Chambers wasn't far off, allowing only two hits.

Hatfield fanned 14 batters and walked four while Chambers struck out 12 and walked only one.

Interior's only run came in the seventh inning when Murray Dean walked to first base, stole second and got home on two consecutive wild pitches.

Richards got the first run for Love's Lunch in the second inning after he slammed a triple—the longest hit of the game—to get on base.

Jimmy Crook whacked a line drive to Interior third baseman Billy Allercott and the ball bounced out of Allercott's glove. Richards scored on the error.

In the fourth, Richards reached base on an error and stole second. Interior's attempt to pick him off on the bases backfired, as two wild throws to the infield let him score.

A game last week between 4X and Naramata, called off because Naramata couldn't field a team, was ordered forfeited to 4X.

Standings now are:

	GP	W	L	T	Pts
Love's Lunch	10	8	1	1	17
Naramata	10	7	3	0	14
4X	10	5	4	1	11

Kelowna Clips Summerlanders

KELOWNA — Kelowna Orioles snapped an eight-game losing streak Wednesday night when they edged out the Summerland Macs 7-6 in an Okanagan Mainline baseball league game here.

Al Schaeffer, the starting pitcher for Kelowna, never finished the game but he sure helped finish the opposition. The league-leading home run hitter, Schaeffer batted out two homers during the game to bring his season's total to eight.

Joe Kaiser also tagged a homer for the Orioles. George Taylor was the Macs' big gun, getting a homer, two doubles and a single. Kelowna took a 3-0 lead in the first inning and stretched it to 5-1 by the time the fourth inning was over.

But the Macs tied the score with a four-run spurge in the fifth and Schaeffer was replaced on the mound by Jack Power. Power gets credit for the win.

He held the Macs down to one run while his team-mates pushed across two runs in the eighth inning to win.

Al Hooker, relieving Morley Filchell in the third inning was charged with the loss.

Davis Cup Play Starting Today

VICTORIA — (BUP) — The sun over Victoria was due to be as bright as Canadian optimism today and the records indicated it had the better survival chance of the two as Canada and the United States prepared to open their North American Zone Davis Cup semi-final.

The Canadians pronounced their two championships courts fit and ready for the initial singles competition.

Don Fontana of Toronto was scheduled to go against Ham Richardson, the Westfield, N.J., Rhodes scholar and ace of the U.S. squad. In the opener, Canada's top-seeded Bob Bedard of Sherbrooke, Que., was drawn against Herb Flam of Beverly Hills, Calif., in the day's second match.

In official ceremonies at the city hall earlier, Bedard and Richardson were also drawn to meet in the first of the two final singles matches scheduled for Sunday. Fontana and Flam were automatically due to meet in the other one, unless Skelton should change his mind about Fontana within the next 48 hours.

He showed what he had here against Penticton when he held the Okanagan visitors to seven scattered hits and struck out seven to hold convincing control of every situation except for an exciting first inning.

Surrey batters also took fire, getting to losing pitcher Howie McNeil for four runs in the first inning, another in the second and two in the third. McNeil was relieved midway in the third by Bruce Rowland who held Surrey scoreless throughout the last half of the game but the lead could not be overhauled.

Penticton got away with a bang in the first inning when their powerful batting trio opened up. Russ Specht singled sharply, Bob Guerard smashed out a triple for the best hit of the game, and McNeil also singled. This gave Penticton two runs as the game opened. But they never threatened too dangerously from then on.

The Penticton boys' third and final run was in the fourth inning when Keith Kerr got on the paths through a Surrey bobble, did some fancy base running to reach third base, and came home on Rowland's Texas leaguer. It was the last counter of the afternoon.

Surrey got eight hits off McNeil and three off Rowland and made a smooth showing in the field. Penticton's defensive work on the other hand, was not too convincing in certain spots and several errors were extremely costly at critical moments.

For this game Brian MacDonald caught for both pitchers and McNeil and Rowland alternated on first base when they were not on the mound. The line-up was otherwise almost unaltered during the whole game with Russ Specht at second, Morley Morgan at short, Ross Cave at third, Pat Stapleton in right field, Bob Guerard at centre and Blair McIver and Keith Kerr alternating at left field.

Penticton is now removed from the play-offs but they will

Macs Drop As Orioles Chirp

Summerland Macs' loss to Kelowna Orioles Wednesday didn't change the standings any, but it did widen the percentage gap between the fourth-place Macs and the third-place Oliver OBC's. And it made the Orioles happy. They'd lost eight straight games.

Summerland's percentage dropped to .466 from .500 and Kelowna's went up to .357 from .307, making the standings:

Embassy Raps Trophy Switch

Bill Warwick today refused to confirm or deny a story that the world hockey championship trophy on display in the Warwick brothers' cafe is the real one and the Russians have only a duplicate.

Warwick, the man allegedly responsible for the trophy-switching that has raised an uproar in hockey circles and the Russian embassy at Ottawa, said only: "I refuse to confirm the story and have no comment to make."

The other Warwick brothers, Grant and Dick, didn't say anything either.

The story broke when Sid Godber, former editor of the Herald, mentioned in his sports column in the Summerland Review that the trophy on display is the real McCoy and not a copy, as customers have supposed.

The Russians, who won the trophy this spring by beating Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen, have the duplicate, he said. Godber went overseas to cover the Vees during the world championships.

In Ottawa, a spokesman for the Russian embassy said the Russian team won the trophy and should have it.

Alexei S. Tovstogan, embassy secretary in charge of sport and cultural affairs, told news paperman the trophy must be returned.

"I feel that is only right," he said. He said he would consider taking steps to have it returned.

In Midland, Ont., secretary-manager George Dudley of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association said he was "not amused by the trophy switching. It was a high-handed action," he said. Dudley said he felt the trophy should be returned to the Russians. If the Warwicks want the replica, he said, it could be arranged to have the Russians send it here.

That the trophy at the Warwicks' cafe is the real one has been rumored around Penticton for a long time. Allegedly, here's how it happened:

After the Vees won the trophy, Bill Warwick had a duplicate made and sent the duplicate back to the International Ice Hockey Federation. No one noticed the difference, the rumor says.

The real one was incorporated into the display at the cafe and has been there since, the story goes.

Some hockey authorities say the Vees aren't the only team to keep the World trophy. The silver cup at the Warwicks' cafe has only three names engraved on its base-plate: 1953 Sweden, 1954 Russia, and 1955 Canada.

Since the cup has been up for competition for many years, there'd logically be more names on it unless some other team took the original and sent in a duplicate without bothering to re-engage old names on it, it is said.

It is implied that the secret was kept because of the intense rivalry between Okanagan Valley hockey teams. If Vernon or the other towns had won the Allan Cup and went on to the World championships, Penticton's Vees would have been able to cheer them for not winning the real thing.

Reaction in Penticton to the story varied from amusement to disdain.

Some fans felt the trophy switching, if it was done, was a good trick on the Russians—the master tricksters.

Others felt that keeping a trophy is "unsportsmanlike."

Low Cost Loans

"Therefore he it resolved that this association ask the Union of B.C. Municipalities to approve the provincial government, with a request that low interest loans be made available to B.C. municipalities for self-liquidating projects."

While the actual resolution does not so state, Reeve Atkinson made it clear that he was asking for a resumption of the two-percent loans that were available during depression years, from the federal treasury.

"Originally, $25,000,000 was made available for this purpose," said the Summerland reeve.

"This has now all been paid back 100 cents on the dollar, but the amount has been subject to a freeze on the part of federal authorities."

"It is suggested that, due to Canada's bettered financial position, the original $25,000,000 be increased to $100,000,000. With such a fund on tap for civic governments for self-liquidating projects, it would be readily possible to meet the demands that are now pressing upon municipal leaders for extension of domestic lines, and similar projects. But without this low-interest money, and with the money markets in their present state, wherein municipal bonds are on a high-interest level, it is becoming increasingly difficult for the civic governments to carry out the needed improvements."

Full approval, and some remarks in commendation for the idea were forthcoming from the gathering, which endorsed the resolution unanimously.

Coast Band Plans Tour Of Okanagan

Pentictonites will be treated to an outstanding concert next month when the far-famed Powell River Company Pipe Band appears in Penticton, Tuesday, August 7.

During the week of August 5-11 the famous band will tour the Okanagan and make appearances in Kamloops, Vernon, Penticton and Kelowna.

Actual forerunner of the Powell River Company Pipe Band was a small group of piping, enthusiasts, many of whom had played with famous Highland regiments, and who got together to form a pipe band in the land of their adoption. The company assumed official sponsorship of the band in 1939, the year the war broke out.

The original band manager was the late Lieut. Colonel John MacGregor, V.C., M.C., D.C.M., one of Canada's most decorated soldiers, and in his honor members of the band decided to adopt the MacGregor tartan as their official kilt.

Successive band managers were the late Peter B. Jack, Jack Gobbie, William Buhler, now the band's company representative, and Donald MacKenzie, the present manager and former pipe-major.

Composed of company employees, the Pipe Band saw its ranks thin out during the war years as many of its members changed into uniforms of the Canadian Armed Forces.

After the war, the late pipe-major George Cairns began rebuilding the band. On his death two years later Donald MacKenzie became pipe-major, and under his guidance the band have taken part in all major piping competitions on the Pacific coast. In 1955, owing to ill health, Don handed over the duties of pipe-major to David Westie, another outstanding piper from the Old Land, and took on the band's management instead.

Today the Powell River Company Pipe Band and its leaders can look back with pride on their record in Western Canadian and Western International piping and drumming competitions, as well as numerous instances of public services on both sides of the U.S.-Canada border.

They have scored success in Class "A" (top grade) contests in Vancouver, Calgary, Seattle, Portland and Los Angeles.

They have taken prominent parts in such parades as Vancouver's Pacific National Exhibition, the Calgary Stampede, and the Seattle Seafair. They attracted big crowds at Disneyland and Knott's Berry Farm on their last visit to Los Angeles.

Among several talented exponents of the Scottish bagpipe perhaps the best known Powell River bandman is Fred MacLeod, Pacific Coast open solo piping champion in 1954 and 1955.

Unlike Old Country trained pipers such as pipe-major David Westie and piper Robert Stoker, former pipe-major of the Calgary Highlanders, Fred (who is also a champion curler), learned all his piping in Canada from his father, a one-time pipe-major himself.

The band's marching and stationary routines are augmented by quartette selections and samples of traditional Scottish dances.

ference" in municipally-operated cemeteries, and because it is compelling, or threatening some civic governments to supply water to those "outside city limits" was forthcoming from practically all delegates.

Suggestions for new means of financing city projects were also brought out. One of these, called for a revival of the "cheap money", the two percent loans that were available to communities in the depression years.

WATER COMMISSION

Another suggested the creation of a new "B.C. Water Commission" to have control of, and to initiate water systems that could embrace larger areas than a single community.

Full support was given the motion advanced by Mayor W. Hardman of Revelstoke, that the interior of the province be given priority on Mica Creek power, rather than to the coast cities, as had been suggested by Vancouver.

No mention was made of the plans for the UBCM convention here this fall, other than to indicate that some of the resolutions will go before it endorsed by the Okanagan body. Details of this function are in the hands of a special committee.

Mayor N. E. Johnson of Endreby was chairman of the gathering, and Mayor J. E. Flitwater of Kamloops the spokesman for the executive of the Union of B.C. Municipalities.

SUMMERLAND — The Okanagan Branch of the BCTSA met in Summerland Wednesday afternoon to prepare resolutions to the annual school trustees' convention to be held at Cranbrook in September.

Tea was served by the local school board with catering by Summerland LOBA.

Growers Charge

replace losses due to frost, Don Sutherland, manager of the Kaledonian Cooperative, reported that "nothing will be done until the full extent of the damage is known."

Question of tariffs prompted R. Duncan to say, "The present Canadian government is just too nice to use the escape clause of the General Agreements on Trade and Tariffs — the U.S. does and does so many times."

The "escape clause" of GATT allows countries to adopt an emergency tariff under extenuating circumstances.

Mr. Duncan tossed the proposal to the meeting that if the government is going to continue allowing dumping of U.S. produce into Canada it should be prepared to pay a subsidy to meet the losses incurred by Canadian growers.

Reasons for the unanimous vote of non-confidence in the department, were contained in a six-page resolution prepared by H. Corbishley.

First the resolution complained of recent "rigid inspections," the cost of which is billed to the growers' agency, the B.C. Tree Fruits.

Yet this self-same government permits the wholesaler and retailer a free hand to market our products, falsify the grades as they see fit and charge as much as they feel the consumer will stand.

Mr. Corbishley cited a chain-store in Vancouver which marketed small size and "obviously Cee grade" apples in a bag labelled "Fancy Grade," to illustrate that grade are falsified.

In this case the consumer was paying approximately $4.50 per box for Cee grade for which the growers received 15c per box.

Thus he concludes, "Inspections at the packing level aside from being discriminatory to the grower, are completely useless unless there is also inspection and control at the wholesale and retail level."

INDUSTRY FAVORED

Secondly, the government has encouraged the free dumping of U.S. soft fruits on Canadian markets because the government favors the "more politically powerful industrial segments of the Canadian economy."

The U.S. government, it went on, believes, "as do most governments the world over," that "agriculture must have support in order to maintain the economy of the country."

As an example it referred to U.S. loans for losses arising from winter-killed trees.

The interest rate in Canada has been raised in Canada from 5% to 6%; yet in the U.S. frost loans are made for 15 year duration up to $25,000 at 2 1/2%.

Thirdly, it protested the refusal to hold a Federal Royal Commission into the Okanagan industry "on the government's grounds that this was a provincial matter."

"... How can the government justify this reasoning when our marketing is controlled in such a closed shop manner by the wholesalers and retailers across Canada."

Fourthly, it deprecated the government's policy of opening up the Cawston, Westbank and West Bench areas for settlement of World War II veterans, and yet "doing everything possible to discourage the profitable marketing" of the produce grown by veterans and fruit farmers in general.

"If the Canadian government takes the responsibility for opening up areas for tree fruit plantings, they should also accept the responsibility of seeing that there will be some guarantee of a market for their produce."

Mr. Corbishley belated that the distributor — the wholesaler and retailer — are treating the consumer "so shabbily". The grower receives 15c per box and the consumer pays $4.50 per box.

Of the $4.50, $1.13 is for packing, government inspection and B.C. Tree Fruits advertising — "we do all that for wholesaler and retailer," said Mr. Corbishley — 19c to growers, and $3.18 for the wholesalers and retailers out of which must come freight charges.

"So for a few days handling as against our year's work, the wholesaler and retailer divide up $3.18, less freight, and we receive only 19c," he concluded.

Pro-Cons Suffer Defeat On Bid To Cut Howe's Budget

OTTAWA, (BUP) — Conservative members suffered short-order defeat and embarrassment when they tried to pare down Production Minister C. D. Howe's 1956-57 estimated spending in the Commons.

The House voted 92 to 29 to scotch their attempt to cut Howe's appropriation to keep armament plant assembly lines in readiness.

Fleming (PC — Toronto-Ellington), moved to reduce the capital assistance item of $7.5 million by $5 million.

Howe reported that "if this motion is passed it will set the CF-105 program back at least 12 months." The CF-105 is Canada's delta-winged successor to the CF-100 twin jet, Canada's present No. 1 fighter plane.

Fleming said Howe had not told the committee that the aircraft's development was tied in with the $7.5 million item. The Toronto member argued that he had urged the reduction in the amount because Howe's statements indicated that only a small part of the money was going to be used.

Fleming expressed readiness to withdraw his motion, but Howe insisted on a vote. Then the Conservatives, unwilling to carry the tag of having impeded development of the new plane, had a hasty conference and sat tight, and did not vote. Their action drew laughter and catcalls from the Liberal members.

Three Social Crediters present, and CCF member Claire Gillis of Cape Breton, South, N.S., voted with the Liberals in a 48 to nil count against the reduction.

Two Labor Groups Will Merge Today

CALGARY, Alta., (BUP) — Some 12,000 members will gather in the Calgary Labor Temple Friday for the first joint meeting of the Trades and Labor Council and the Calgary Labor Council.

The meeting will complete merger of Calgary's two largest organized labor bodies. A total of 65 local unions will be represented on the new labor council.

The executive of the body, to be called the "Calgary Labor Council," will consist of several TLC and five CLC (CCL) members.

August Campaign Planned To Help Move Peach Crop

A joint advertising and merchandising promotion on B.C. peaches and McGavin's sponge cake will run from August 23 to 30, advises B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd.'s advertising department.

This joint effort will cover the three prairie provinces and British Columbia.

Point of sale display material will be distributed and assist retailers in building displays of B.C. peaches and sponge cake.

This additional merchandising support will assist in moving the peach crop, although it is not as large as last year.

"When planning such campaigns it is necessary to take into consideration not only Okanagan's crop aspects, but also the crop prospects of competitors," B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd. pointed out.

Veteran Dies During Sleep

KEREMEOS — R. E. Blackmore, a veteran of World War I who served with the 88th Infantry Brigade, died during his sleep Thursday morning at the age of 72.

Born in Manchester, he came to this district from Ashcroft in October, 1954.

Mr. Blackmore is survived by his wife, Beatrice, two daughters, Mrs. Norah Catterall and Mrs. Nancy Eileen Hawes, both of Victoria, six grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted in the chapel of the Penticton Funeral Chapel at 3 p.m. today, Canon A. R. Eagles officiating.

Committal was made in the Field of Honor plot in Lakeview Cemetery.

R. J. Pollock and J. V. Carberry of the Penticton Funeral Chapel acted as directors.

ONE OF A PARTY of 33 Canadian Air Cadets to be greeted at London Airport by Air Vice Marshal A. D. Gilmore, Senior Air Staff Officer, RAF Home Command was WO2 Charles Lye, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Lye, 1399 Main St., Penticton. WO2 Lye is a member of 259 Penticton Squadron.

Local Couple Leave On U.S.-Canada Tour

During the next seven months Mr. and Mrs. William Radomske, long-time residents of this city, will be carrying the banner "Penticton — home of '55 World Hockey Champs" and City of Beaches and Peaches" all across Canada and the United States.

The couple left Penticton yesterday morning at 11 a.m., pulling behind their car a home-built house trailer for their long and adventuresome journey.

On this cool-colored trailer the Penticton Board of Trade painted the banner quoted above. In addition, before their farewell to Penticton, Howard Patton, secretary-manager of the local Board of Trade, gave them 100 folders which described the city of beaches and peaches.

Their tentative plans are to stay one week at Radium Hot Springs, a week at Waterton Lakes in the Glacier Park section of Alberta, and to pass through the main Canadian cities like Calgary, Edmonton, Winnipeg, Ottawa and Toronto.

By Christmas time they hope to be in southern Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. William Radomske have been planning the trip for about five years. But it was not until this winter when Mr. Radomske, who does painting and decorating work, had some spare time that their hopes reached reality.

Mr. Radomske built and designed the trailer himself during the winter.

The interior of the trailer is finished in mahogany plywood. At the end facing the back of the car is a set of custom-made cupboards and tables.

A fold-up bed is situated at the other end. The bed was neatly set up and had a rabbit's fur blanket spread over it when the couple left yesterday.

"We must take our rabbit," kidded Mrs. Radomske.

They leave behind their son, Lloyd, 17, of Penticton and their daughter, Mrs. Violet Cockell of

Two changes Harry Shoubridge is glad to see

"The modern food store is a shopper's paradise," says food store owner Harry Shoubridge. "Self-service has made buying quicker and easier. New departments, such as frozen foods, have brought a wider choice of products. Package designs, store arrangements and lighting have all been modernized and vastly improved."

Another change benefits Mr. Shoubridge and his family in a personal way. Nowadays it's easier to provide financial security for families because life insurance policies are much more flexible. Never before has the range of policies and plans been so wide.

Life insurance representatives, too, are trained to give more competent service in the selection of plans to meet individual family needs. Today, through life insurance, ready funds are provided for emergencies, for education, for safeguarding your home, for your business and for your retirement.

In these and other ways, the life insurance companies in Canada are in step with progress... bringing benefits to people in all walks of life!

One Man's Opinion

Never Misjudge Tourist Zeal

(By HOWARD PATTON)
This is a column of confession — true confessions by yours truly.

I confess that I have insulted the City of Penticton, its citizens and its businessmen. I have perpetrated this insult by underestimating the individual and collective spirit of enthusiasm, vision and desire for progress.

When I came to Penticton just over a year ago I was loaded with enthusiasm, vision and desire for progress. But I listened to warnings that I had a mighty tough job ahead, that I'd better get used to running into stone walls and having my head and heart broken.

It didn't happen the first month, the second month, the first year. Almost everyone was an enthusiastic as I was to keep Penticton on the map.

"They're just being polite and kind," I told myself, "giving me enough hope to hang myself."

Wait until the chips are down.

From time to time we played for pretty big stakes — $3,000 for a new Penticton brochure — and the City Council put up the ante without flickering an eyelash.

Then a $2,500 grant to the Board of Trade — and the Council came through again. Later, a $50,000 guarantee for the invitation to the Russians to play the Vees — and private citizens readily signed up.

Finally, the Tourist Bureau campaign for funds — now nearing completion — in which hotels, motels and businessmen at large are asked to express their enthusiasm in cash for Penticton promotion.

The response to this campaign is the final proof that I should confess to under-estimating Penticton.

It's not only that actual cash subscriptions will exceed the objective. It's also the manner in which they are made.

So seldom is there any question that tourism is vital to our economy, that it contributes to every business and that every business should support tourist promotion.

So often a substantial subscription is made with the comment, "This isn't much but we'll do better next year. We really haven't begun to promote this city. The potential is unlimited. All we have to do is get behind it."

And the ideas and plans that are suggested to me convince me that I'm a piker when it comes to Penticton promotion. So I may as well confess it and get it off my conscience.

Now, having done so, I'll be able to lift my head and raise my sights as high as Penticton citizens have set their own.

Processors Seek Consumer Reaction On Cider Products

SUMMERLAND — Negotiations are under way between the B.C. Fruit Processors and the Liquor Control Board to permit a test pack of 1,000 cases of sparkling apple cider in three outlets to determine consumer reaction to this new product.

The cider is the product of the Summerland Fruit and Vegetable Processing Laboratory and its sale could mean that growers would get a worthwhile price for Co-grade apples.

At the present, the Liquor Control Board allows only malt beverages to be sold in government licensed outlets.

B.C. Fruit Processors Ltd., has presented a brief on the matter to the provincial cabinet and it is hoped that difficulties will be overcome in two or three weeks by the time the test pack is ready.

It would be tried in Kelowna, Vancouver and Nanaimo to determine consumer reaction.

Several taste panels have been pleased with the product. The Hotelmen's Association meeting in Penticton this spring voted 7-1 in favor of it. Dr. Wm. Newton, technical advisor to the Liquor Control Board, was in Summerland recently and passed the cider as a salable product.

A box of apples will make 36 cans of cider. The price of the product is to compete with beer.

The Fruit and Vegetable Processing Lab started work on the cider in January. By the time suitable results were obtained it was too late to try varieties other than Delicious, Newtown, Winesaps and other varieties will have to be experimented with to attain the same standard as that set by Delicious juice.

This work has all been done with the idea of getting the grower a better price for his fruit, and its success depends largely on results of negotiations between the Liquor Board and the B.C. Processors.

At present time, taking costs and taxes into consideration, predictions are promising from a grower's point of view.

BITTER LATE...

HANGERS IN PERIL

WASHINGTON, (UP) — The U.S. Department of Agriculture says that some moth preventives will cause plastic hangers to soften and damage garments in storage. The department's agricultural research service has found that vapors given off by the moth preventive paradichlorobenzene will cause the plastic hanger to soften and sometimes stick to the garment. Heat, such as that in an attic during the summer, hastens the process. But the department said the vapors from naphthalene (moth balls or flakes) do not affect the plastic.

Red squirrels voluntarily swim streams and lakes, including such waters as Lake George, and the broadest part of Lake Champlain.

Vegetable Packers Consider Marketing Position In Valley

Managers of the vegetable packinghouses of the Okanagan Valley met with members of the B.C. Interior Vegetable Marketing Board this week to consider their position in view of the impending resignation of the board members.

Tom Wilkinson, of Kelowna, chairman of the board, acted as chairman of the meeting and informed the secretary that the board members had tendered their resignations to the secretary effective the end of July. Mr. Wilkinson explained the efforts that had been made by the board to secure approval of the Minister of Agriculture to the use of powers of control which have been incorporated in the vegetable marketing scheme since its inception in 1934, and which are in the opinion of the board now necessary in order to establish a measure of equity among growers.

The Coast Vegetable Marketing Board has exercised these same powers for years and with the approval of the government. Mr. Wilkinson pointed out that the minister is no doubt influenced by representations made by a number of growers who secure the benefits of controlled marketing in their sales to local retailers but are unwilling to share in the general pool along with those growers who supply fully graded and packaged products for our other western Canadian markets.

He stated that the position of the board members was untenable and that they had, in his opinion, no option but to tender their resignations.

Mr. Wilkinson made it clear to the shippers that the board's regulations would remain in full effect, and that the board members would remain as directors of the B.C. Interior Vegetable Marketing Agency, and would give the agency manager, Eric Magee, all the guidance and assistance they could.

The packinghouse managers, who have always been stalwart supporters of the principle of orderly marketing, unanimously agreed to respect the board orders and regulations in the interests of the utmost returns to the growers whom they represent.

Dolph Browne of Vernon, who is chairman of the Vegetable Committee of Okanagan Federated Shippers' Association, urged that growers be encouraged to pack as many of their vegetables as possible, particularly cucumbers, semi-ripe and turning tomatoes and peppers.

None of the growers is equipped to put up wrapped packs of tomatoes or to wash and grade their root vegetables and potatoes. Packinghouse fieldmen will have to give the growers every assistance and guidance in this work, and at the same time they must be strict in seeing that the produce packed by the growers is up to grade and properly packed when delivered for loading.

The meeting was critical of the rapid decline in volume of cucumbers being sold. Some of the large distributing markets on the prairies are now taking less than half the quantity they bought 10 to 15 years ago. The meeting asked the agency to endeavor to find the reason for this situation and to do everything possible to increase the volume of cucumbers shipped.

L. R. Stephens, secretary-manager of Okanagan Federated Shippers' Association, Kelowna, is the representative of the vegetable shippers on the board. The other board members beside Mr. Wilkinson are Robert Stockton of Kamloops and Louis Hart of Oryoon.

Obstinate Driver Strikes Fireman, Fined For Assault

An obstinate car driver last Monday, when he found Martha Street blocked off by the fire department for one of its practices, chose to slug a traffic director.

For this display of temper he paid $15 and costs in City Court Tuesday.

Joseph Edward Lamb was directing traffic at the time and he was the complainant. The accused, Kenneth Rolston, was charged with striking Mr. Lamb in the face with his fist.

RCMP Cpl. Kelly explained to the court that the accused had been drinking prior to the incident but was not drunk. After he hit Mr. Lamb, the accused left town and the police stopped him at Trout Creek.

"This sort of thing just isn't done," commented the coroner as he told of the assault. Mr. Lamb sustained no serious injury.

"We have practices to provide safety against fire in the city," said Magistrate Harold Jennings as he fined the accused.

KEREMEOS NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. F. C. McCague and family are holidaying at the coast.

Visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Sykes during the week were Mr. and Mrs. Neil McKellar of Calgary, Alta., and Alan Hunter and Ronald Pusey of Vancouver. Miss Virginia Sykes, nurse-in-training at the Vancouver General Hospital School of Nursing, who has been vacationing at the home of her parents, returned to Vancouver on Sunday.

Mrs. M. Donkin of Calgary is a business visitor in town.

Miss Diane Davidson of Vancouver, is the guest of Mrs. F. B. Tessman. Diane is a niece of F. B. Tessman, currently at the RCA summer camp at Abbotsford, B.C.

Members of O.O.R.P., Lodge 56, enjoyed a beach party and wiener roast at Okanagan Falls on Monday evening. Adding to the fun was the appearance of two members in unrevealing bathing "costumes" of the "gay nineties".

William MacGillivray, deputy minister of Agriculture and Mrs. MacGillivray were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. McGuffie.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Knott of Kitimat are visiting Mrs. Knott's father, Donald Cameron of Olla.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Lang of Vancouver are visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Lidicoat.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Armstrong were visitors in town recently. Mr. Armstrong is the son of Mrs. J. L. Armstrong, of Cloverdale, B.C., who for sometime was postmaster here. Mrs. J. L. Armstrong is recuperating at her home following a serious illness.

A very successful garden tea, under the sponsorship of the W.A. to St. John's Anglican Church, was held on Thursday evening, on the lovely lawn at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Manery. There was an excellent attendance, which included a number of visitors from outside points.

Miss Daisy Dundas is again a patient in Penticton Hospital.

RCMP Corporal W. F. Hare, Mrs. Hare and family of Dawson Creek, B.C., were visitors in town last week en route to Oliver, where they spent part of their holidays.

League Corrects Drowning Fallacies

For some years now, the Health League of Canada has pointed out that many drownings could have been prevented through the proper knowledge and application of artificial respiration in addition to observing usual swimming safety rules.

Although a victim may have been under water for as long as half an hour, and show none of the usual signs of life — no heart beat, no breathing, no eye reflex — a chance still remains that life may be restored.

A cardinal rule in applying artificial respiration is that these revival efforts should not be ceased for at least four hours — preferably until the victim breathes again, or rigor mortis sets in. Only too frequently artificial respiration is stopped after a short time, when a longer time may have meant another life saved.

Sometimes a victim may really die from suffocation, rather than by actual drowning. Research has revealed that a spasm of the larynx prevents either water or air from entering the lungs, and the results, although there is no water in the lungs, is death just the same.

Be certain that air passages are clear, before applying artificial respiration; pulling the tongue out and keeping it out may help. A doctor can listen for the audible passage of air in and out of the lungs with his stethoscope. The Health League warns that in case of drowning, artificial respiration must be applied right away — don't wait for the doctor to come — send for him, but start revival attempts without a minute's delay, or precious time may be lost. There must not be any halt in applying artificial respiration; the rhythmic pressure and release must be carried on without interruption, even in ambulance on the way to hospital.

Tourist Industry Is Big Business

In 1955 the British tourist industry attained the long-term aim of attracting a million overseas visitors, and the British Travel and Holidays Association, in its twenty-eighth annual report, expresses the belief that this figure will be doubled in nine years' time.

"The immediate years ahead offer boundless opportunities for expansion," says the report. "Developments in transportation are proceeding at a rapid pace."

Dealing with the 1955 tourist year, the report records 1,737,000 visitors to Britain and earnings, including fare payments to British carriers, totalled £156,000,000. This traffic represented an increase of 15 per cent over 1954 and the value of tourism almost equalled the value of iron and

$150,000 Motel Provides Tourist Facilities In Scenic Comfort

Streamlined 30-Unit City Motel Opens On Lakeshore

Penticton's aim to provide tourists with "accommodation in scenic comfort" is supported this week with the grand opening of the ultra-modern Lakeshore Motel.

This 30-unit one-acre motel, scenically set in a grove of acacia trees, is situated at 914 Lakeshore Drive, not far from the SS Sicamous.

Each of the units in their interior have mahogany walls contrasted with a wall of beige-colored pumice blocks.

Predominant color in every unit is green. Curtains are either green or brown, bedspreads are a sparkling green, the kitchen sinks are finished in netted-green arborite, kitchen floors are covered with marblish-green linoleum.

Of the 30 units, five are sleeping type complete with baths and showers, 21 have one bedroom and cooking facilities and four have two bedrooms and cooking facilities.

The sleeping type units have inter-connecting doors to accommodate larger parties.

Owner Collin MacGillivray says the motel can provide for a party of eight.

Refrigerators of 7½ cubic foot capacity and gas stoves are provided in the cooking units.

Mr. MacGillivray hopes to convert the gas ranges into natural gas stoves when the Interior gas pipeline comes through.

In addition a room has been set aside for laundry. Tenants have use of the three automatic washers and a drier.

Cribs are available when a party has children.

Further, the interior of each unit features pull-down lamps in living rooms, and furniture is covered with the new granite-like plastic called vinyl-coated roxotone. This plastic finish is immune to scratches, children's crayons and spilled liquor.

Heating comes from wall furnaces.

The exterior of the units is predominantly a pumice stone finish with a dark red patio-style roof projecting out.

Windows in front and back are fitted into aluminum casements.

The motel is enclosed in a one-acre lot, 120 feet wide and 360 feet long.

Very ample parking space is provided. The parking area measures about 60 feet wide and 300 feet long.

Mr. MacGillivray, the owner, came from Edmonton to settle in Penticton last November.

The motel was in its planning stages during February.

On June 5 four or five of the units were ready for occupancy and they were snapped up. The openings since then have been taken every day.

The motel is not yet completed and landscaping is presently being done.

Total cost of the stream-lined motel when finished is estimated at $150,000.

Sunburn Is Number One Summer Menace

"A severe sunburn may be just as serious as a fairly serious burn by oil or fire," stated Dr. Gordon Bates, General Director of the Health League of Canada.

Sunburn is cited as being the greatest single cause of disability in industry during the summer months.

A severe burn should be avoided at all costs, said Dr. Bates. An even tan looks becoming, and may be beneficial but this should be obtained gradually in order to reap the full benefits of the action of the sun's rays.

The actinic rays of the sun are those which produce the ricket-preventing vitamin D, when they act upon the waxy substance called cholesterol, which is always present in the skin.

An even tan may be obtained easily and comfortably by exposure to strong sunlight in graduating doses. Exposure the first day should be limited to a few minutes, and that time doubled the next day, and so on, until a protective tan is arrived at. Be particularly careful when sunning yourself near water, for the added reflection from the surface of the water results in an intensified glare.

These basic rules may only be broken if one of the proven preparations for preventing sunburn is used. Even these preparations should not be relied upon completely, to the extent of lying in the sun for a whole day, for instance, for the first time. The sun can be friend or foe in the summer-time — it all depends upon moderation and in being sensible.

PENTICTON'S NEWEST LUXURY AUTO COURT BUILT BY OLLEN and WEBBER - Building Contractor

The exterior of Lakeshore Motel presents a modern trend with economy of line and strength of construction, this design by W. W. Ollen is the result of careful research and practical experience in Motel construction.

While the firm of Ollen and Webber are general contractors, experienced and equipped to handle any and every type of job of building and remodeling, they have none-the-less an exceptional record of designing and constructing Auto Courts and Motels throughout the district.

In 1949 Wilf Ollen began his first Auto Court job with different Auto Courts and Motels. From 1949 to 1953 the remodeling and additions to the Penticton Auto Court. Since that time the firm has worked on many as Wilf Ollen, Builder and Contractor, and since 1953 the partnership of Wilf Ollen and Lloyd Webber have operated under Ollen and Webber, Builders and Contractors. Investment Spurs On Canada's Expansion

The volume of business investment has been the outstanding factor in Canada's surging expansion.

Under the title, "A Full Head of Steam," the B of M review points out that the total expenditure by business concerns and private institutions on new non-residential construction, machinery and equipment in the first quarter of this year were nearly a third higher than the same period of 1955.

"There is every reason to believe that these expenditures will continue to rise," says the review, which adds that a mid-year official check on investment intentions in Canada shows that capital outlays of this nature, amounting to $5,147 million, are contemplated for 1956.

This is $438 million above the preliminary survey published in February and a full $1.5 billion, or 41 per cent, above actual expenditures made in 1955.

VAST PROGRAM FORECAST
"The combined value of all public and private investment planned for 1956," states the review, "amounts to an $8 billion program, more than a quarter again as large as actual outlays in 1955."

It notes, however, that in commenting on these intentions, the official report expressed serious doubts as to whether available supplies of equipment, labor and capital funds would be sufficient to permit their full implementation this year.

"Nevertheless," states the review, "the existence of this vast program, and the attempt to realize it, promises to keep the economy operating at full pelt in the months ahead."

"Export" trade, historically a second major determinant of business conditions in Canada, has played a smaller stimulative role but has, nevertheless, been buoyant," continues the Bank of Montreal.

WHEAT SHIPMENTS UP

"In the five months to the end of May, total exports were 11.6 per cent above a year earlier, with wheat joining such other products as newsprint, iron ore, copper and petroleum in the list of items recording notable increases. April and May exports of wheat amounted to $101 million, nearly double those of the corresponding months last year.

"This high volume of shipments," says the review, "has been welcome to the farmers of the Prairie Provinces, where most of the 1955 crop remained on farms throughout the winter months."

There are, on the other hand, individuals, firms and public bodies that have experienced difficulty in securing their capital requirements in a monetary atmosphere that can fairly be described as having been tight for the past several months."

MONETARY POLICY

But there is no question that, viewed in the aggregate, the Canadian economy is operating under a full head of steam.

"Such a condition," concludes the review, "warrants close attention to the pressure gauges of the economic mechanism and careful handling of the safety valves by the monetary authorities; mainly, however, it does not call for an indiscriminate stoking of the furnace."

OSOYOOS NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. W. Martin and family have returned to their home here after spending several months in Vancouver while Mr. Martin underwent some treatments of Shaughnessy hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Rowland Money and small son David of Vancouver were recent visitors here at the home of Mrs. Jean Pugh and family.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Leon Stuppeler on the recent birth of a daughter. A sister for Beverly.

Her friends all wish a speedy recovery to Mrs. Rebecca Atkinson who is very ill in St. Martin Hospital as a result of a bad fall in her cellar.

Mr. and Mrs. Pat Fraser, son Buddy and Mrs. J. Pugh motored to Nelson recently to watch the summer bonspiel there. Mike Fraser returned home with them after curling in the bonspiel.

Dr. and Mrs. Gordon Shepherd and son Bruce were away for a week at the Calgary Stampede. Mr. and Mrs. Shepherd Sr. returned home with them for a visit here.

After a short run on cherries with a skeleton crew Canada Packers cannery here is now off to a flying start on apricots with a full crew busily hustling delicious apricots into the cans.

Parts of the interior of Alaska have temperatures ranging of 100 degrees Fahrenheit — from 100 degrees in summer to minus 70 in winter.

Wider Outlets Seen For Sour Cherries

SUMMERLAND — With sour cherries big business in other fruit growing centres, there may be paying possibilities in a larger acreage in the Okanagan Valley. At present, between Westbank and Summerland, only 22 acres are planted to red cherries.

Last year B.C. Fruit Processors Ltd., used 90 tons to make cherry pie filling, which was a popular product. This year the processors would use a greater tonnage if obtainable.

Barkwill's Ltd., of Summerland has frozen a small pack this month to ship to a bakery business at the coast.

There would be other outlets in jam factories and with interested firms if sour cherries were available.

Ontario produces 8,000 tons of sour cherries and an overproduction there could affect prices in this province.

The sour cherry is harder than the sweet and would stand up to frost conditions better. It might be the answer to profitable crops in areas that suffer from frost.

Montmorency is the variety recommended, and nursery stock, as free from virus diseases as possible, is now on the market.

In the United States there has been a large increase in the past 15 years in the use of sour cherries.

Change In Zoning Appeal Procedure Shelved By Group

One Vernon resolution to come before the Okanagan Valley Municipal Association Thursday did not find favor. It sought a change in the procedure for zoning appeals.

The Vernon move, advanced by Acting-Mayor F. V. Harwood, suggested that either a city council or an appeal board should hear such appeals. The present provincial Act decrees that a separate board of appeals be set up.

Speaking against the idea, Alderman E. A. Titchmarsh said "I feel this is a rather dangerous principle. It means, actually, that the city or municipal council would be the body to hear the appeals against its own bylaws or rulings, rather than these being heard by an independent group."

"Essentially, this means that they would be judge and jury too, in such matters. I am firmly of the opinion that the fairest way in which these things can be handled, is through an entirely disinterested body."

When some delegates indicated they were "not too clear" on the point involved, City Clerk H. G. Andrew clearly outlined the procedures that are followed, showing that the appeal board hears such matters as lot widths, setbacks and similar items, rather than building restrictions.

The resolution was tabled for further consideration at the next session of the organization.

Motorcycle Driver Killed In Crackup

VANCOUVER, (BUP) — An inquest will be held into a motorcycle crash that killed one man and injured a girl in the 1500-block Trimble in Vancouver Thursday night.

Witnesses told police the motorcycle was travelling too fast to make the turn from Northwest Marine onto Trimble. Officers said his machine skidded more than 140 feet before hitting the car.

The motorcyclist was 21-year-old John Liver. He was Vancouver's 22nd traffic fatality this year.

General hospital authorities said John R. Brown, 20, of 1752 Davie, driver of the auto involved was 18-year-old Gordon Gibson, 235 Keith Road, West Vancouver.

Seven Missing In Wreckage Of Sunken Sailboat

COLLINGWOOD, Ont., (BUP) — A search plane Thursday sighted sunken wreckage in Georgian Bay near Collingwood, Ontario, which police believe may be from a sailboat on which seven persons are missing.

The body of one person, Mrs. John Borland of Collingwood, was found.

Still missing are her husband, a married couple from Toronto, and four young men from Collingwood.

APPLICATIONS PASSED

SUMMERLAND — Summerland council at Tuesday's meeting passed electrical applications of Mrs. L. E. Evans, W. G. Ritchie, J. S. Dickson, Rev. C. O. Richmond and Mrs. J. Scutten.

Water applications of J. P. Morrow and H. C. Smith were allowed.

THE INTERIOR of Lakeshore Motel is a most inviting and restful sight to the traveller. Here is to be found the last word in comfort and convenience; the modern trend is followed through with colored pumice blocks, mahogany panelling and matching scheme of interior decoration. Here our photographer met smiling Mrs. C. Slade and her pretty daughter Lynda of New Westminster, B.C., who assured him that they were enjoying both Lakeshore Motel and Pentiction.

Increase In Wages For Council Members Aired

Difficulty in getting business men to accept municipal office was given as one of the most important reasons for the recommendation of an "increase in wages" for the council members other than mayors, when this problem was placed before the Okanagan Valley Municipal Association Thursday afternoon.

The Vernon resolution, pointed out that an "increasing amount of time" is becoming necessary for the councillors and aldermen. It indicated that the stipend paid mayors and reeves was raised a year or two ago, but that no provision under the municipal act had been made for a parallel in the same civic group.

Speaking to the resolution, Acting-Mayor F. V. Harwood of Vernon said that while some of the cities are able to increase payments to their council members, a number of the municipal governments, with just as large taxation, and at least as many problems, find the "ceiling" placed on these payments far too low to permit some active business men from seeking government office.

Several others expressed similar views, stating that many who might otherwise take their place in civic government, are prevented from doing so because they cannot afford the time. If the payment is increased, it was noted, these men would be able to arrange their affairs and avoid placing themselves in an embarrassing economic position.

View of Alderman Elsie MacCleave of Pentiction was that, while the need for increase, particularly for the smaller communities, is quite apparent, the move should more properly have come from the Boards of Trade and Junior Chambers of Commerce, than from those directly concerned.

Alderman T. O'Neal of Kamloops, a former M.P., said that while he is not affected, since he is retired, he is heartily in favor of the move. "There should be some adjustment made to enable more business men to afford time to sit on the council," he stated.

Mayor W. Hardman of Revelstoke said that while their city is small, he and his council have a great deal of committee work.

Gunman Escapes In $2000 Holdup

TORONTO, (BUP) — A well-dressed bandit walked into the Church and Wellington Street Branch of the Toronto-Dominion bank and staged a two-thousand dollar holdup.

The gunman — described as around 40-years of age — drew a pistol and calmly demanded the money from a girl teller.

Police said that after the hold-up the man dashed into a busy office building but efforts to find him were futile.

WELCOMES INVESTMENT

OTTAWA, (BUP) — Australian Prime Minister R. G. Menzies told a press conference in Ottawa Thursday that his country welcomes United States, Canadian, investment.

Menzies said that foreign capital was coming into Australia in two ways, as public capital for national development projects, and as money for private industry.

The prime minister is visiting Canada and the United States on his way home from the conference of Commonwealth Prime Ministers in London.

NO BUILDING ALLOWED

No residence can be built on three lots owned by a client of Washington, Halcyon & Callaghan, council agreed on Monday night when a letter from this firm concerning the status of the holding was read.

It was stated that the man had bought the lots knowing that the creek right-of-way cuts across part of them, and that no road can be built in to serve them. Council agreed that the facts of the case will be repeated, as well as their decision to allow no building where it cannot be served by a proper street.

Sandbox For Back Yard Play Is Easily Made From Fir Plywood

A sandbox for the backyard is a simple saw and hammer project anyone can build in an evening.

One of these play boxes placed beside the garage, or house, as shown, will keep the youngsters happy for hours and relieve mother of worry about where the children are playing. Addition of a cover will provide a shady spot for hot days.

TWO HOURS' WORK

These advantages are provided from one panel of fir plywood for the box, and half a sheet for the canopy. A couple of hours work will finish the job with a saw and hammer the only tools needed to complete this durable and attractive play area.

From a 4x8 foot panel of 3/4 inch plywood cut the sides and bottom to the dimensions shown in the sketch, making the sides

A, B, C and D equal widths (1 foot less the thickness of the saw cut). Cut "V" notches 1 inch deep on all four sides of section "C" for rain drainage. Assemble with waterproof glue and 1 1/2 inch galvanized common nails set every 6 inches throughout the entire box. Pieces, E, F and H are fastened to the sides as seats. CANOPY 4 x 4 FEET

The canopy is one 4 x 4 foot piece of fir plywood with a light frame. Attached to the wall, it can be supported by lumber poles. The box and canopy can be given a stain finish or be painted with high grade exterior paint according to directions of the paint manufacturer.

End Bathroom Lineups With This Two Way Division

Trying to make one bathroom do the work of two? If so, you can easily add glamor — as well as a touch of mystery — to everyday life around your house by taking a tip from the hotel planners of a few years back. According to the Canadian Institute of Plumbing and Heating, there is a way of making fifty percent more space give you more than double the service.

At present, if you're in the same predicament as four out of five Canadian families, the line no doubt forms in the hall morning and evening. Mother's nerves stand on end, keeping breakfast or dinner waiting. Father almost cuts his throat, rushing to get through the daily shaving chore so that teen agers can be ready for school — or the dance.

Why put up with this any longer? Especially, when there's plenty of space going to waste around your house. In most cases, this is right where it is needed most — next to the existing bathroom. All you have to do is expand into an adjoining hall or larger bedroom to accommodate the extra "cell".

Here's the general layout. One of the latest model square bath tubs is only 42 inches each way. This goes in the centre. On either side, as shown in the accompanying plan, are compartments equipped with wash basin and toilet.

There are two approaches — one from the hall, the other from within the master bedroom. And this alone is a convenience any couple with a growing family will appreciate — especially on those occasions when, no matter how much you may love the little dears, you want to be alone.

Such a set up also lends itself to several "working" arrangements. Let's say, for instance, the morning rush is on and one member of the family wants to take a bath. He or she can manage this in the middle compartment, while both ends are taking care of others.

Sliding doors, it will be noted, ensure the privacy of what is literally the "bathroom". A Holly-wood touch is added by installing basins of the new counter type, which actually makes them dressing tables with running water at hand. They can also be had with clothes hampers underneath — a further space saver. And the glamor department is completed by fastening a full length mirror to the wall opposite the bath. Or it may be placed on the back of one of the doors, where it can be used from either end of this multiple bathroom. Such a convenience, incidentally, creates an atmosphere of spaciousness.

And how much does all this cost? Not a great deal, when you consider the additional service it provides. Besides, a loan to handle the whole alteration can be secured, without taking a mortgage on the old homestead, from your local bank. Federal government assistance now makes it possible to borrow up to $2,500 for such worthwhile purposes — at the new low rate of only 5 1/2 percent.

percent. It will greatly enhance the value of your house — on the market or in daily use.

VENTILATE WELL

When applying the new types of odorless paints, it is a good idea to have adequate ventilation. While the new paints are easy on the nose, they contain ingredients that should be vented to the outdoors.

Fir Plywood Cabinets Quickly Solve Kitchen Storage Space

Unusual indeed is the woman who feels that she has enough cabinet space in her kitchen. To relieve this situation, more and more architects and contractors are giving special attention to the matter of wooden kitchen cabinets in new homes.

Builders have found that a woman who is continually battling the problem of limited cabinet space will be highly pleased with a kitchen boasting plenty of roomy cabinets. A modern kitchen, with fir plywood cabinets finished naturally or in solid colors is a very strong selling point of any house.

DO-IT-YOURSELF JOB
Adding cabinets to your present kitchen is definitely a do-it-yourself project — whether you make the cabinet or buy the ready made article and install it yourself.

It's an odd thing but many people who would not hesitate to tackle the construction of a bookcase, are a bit leary about building and installing a kitchen cabinet. Yet the projects are very similar. A cabinet, roughly speaking, is a bookcase with doors. If you think of it that way, you'll find it a lot easier to visualize details of construction. When one can visualize these details they feel more confident about their ability to do a successful job with fir plywood, regardless of the project.

Before starting to build, the exact positioning and size of cabinets must be determined. The lady of the house will be using the top of such a cabinet many times a day, so the height

Condition Of Old Paint Big Factor In Painting

Chief thing to notice before beginning a paint job is the quality of the old paint. With this knowledge in mind the handyman can then determine the number of coats he should apply.

Below are a few hints to ensure the best possible paint job. These tips will make the painting go more smoothly and save much time and effort.

New Chemical Digs Out Dirt

Anyone who has ever made a trip to the attic knows that a lot of dust, dirt and grime can accumulate in even the best managed home.

Something that would make furniture and fabrics dirt-resistant has long been the dream of housewives, and a new product just announced by Du Pont of Canada may go a long way to making that dream come true.

The new chemical can be applied to rugs, carpets, fabrics, painted walls and other surfaces to keep them dirt free. Not yet available in small packages for individual consumer use, it is currently being tested on a commercial scale by rug manufacturers.

The chemical, "Ludox" colloidal silica, works as a soil retardant. Here's the idea behind it. All surfaces possess in varying degrees, small pits and crevices in which dirt can lodge. These soil receptor sites, as they are called, have defeated normal cleaning practices to date. The dirt got in them and stayed there. Plugging the crevices with "Ludox" means that dirt literally has no place to go.

Particles of the new chemical are so minute that it would require about 600,000,000 of them to cover the head of a pin. They are smaller than even the smallest grain of dirt, so that a treated surface is given an invisible coat that cannot be penetrated by even the finest mote. Dirt remains on the treated surface and can be removed with light vacuuming or sponging. Such simple cleaning, it is claimed, does not remove any of the chemical soil retardant — its dirt-chasing quality remains unimpaired.

HOW MANY COATS?

Three-Coat System — For the highest quality job, the three-coat system is recommended for new wood, or for surfaces where the old paint has been removed.

First, apply undercoat, to uniform the surfaces of the various woods used in building a house. Let dry 48 hours and apply house paint.

After drying two days to one week, this should be followed by a second coat of house paint.

This three-coat system assures maximum protection over new or bare wood.

Two-Coat System — This is recommended for previously painted surfaces where the paint film shows unevenness of condition — it may be soft in some areas, hard in others unusually dirty in still others, due to different exposures to sun, wind and other weather conditions.

In such situations, first apply a coat of undercoat to make the entire surface the same. After at least 48 hours' drying time, apply one coat of house paint.

One-Coat System — Only recommended for previously painted surfaces, where the paint film is in firm condition. Apply one coat of house paint.

WHEN TO PAINT?

Best time is during a period of clear, dry weather when the humidity is low. Never paint in hot sun — it's bad for you, bad for the paint. Never paint in a high wind — it blows dust and bugs onto fresh paint.

And never soon after rain — paint won't cling over damp surfaces, so allow plenty of time after rain before painting.

Start painting on the shady side of the house, and follow the sun so you're painting in the shade. Wait until the dew dries before you start! Stop before it falls at dusk.

PROTECT SHRUBBERY

Cover shrubbery and walks with drop cloths to protect them from spatters. And be sure your car is out of the range of stray spatters.

ESTIMATE ENOUGH PAINT

The amount you need varies with the condition of the surface. To determine the amount usually required, compute the square feet to be covered by multiplying the distance around the house by its average height.

Example:
Length, 2 sides, 40' long 80'
Width, 2 sides, 20' long 40'
Total distance around 120'
Multiply by average height plus 2 feet 15'
Total square feet 1800'

Green, blue and gray tend to counteract excessive glare from a window in the full sun and give a cool and restful appearance.

PROF. FORESEES STILL MORE CHEMICAL ELEMENTS

BERKLEY, Calif., (UP) — Nobel Laureate Prof. Glenn T. Seaborg predicts there may still be many undiscovered chemical elements.

Seaborg directed much of the University of California's research that has expanded the list of known elements from 92 to 101.

But Seaborg said it probably will be impossible to identify chemically any element beyond 105. He explained the elements beyond 105 would be so unstable as to decay before they could be scientifically studied.

BLUEBIRD NOTES

The bluebird is the symbol of spring, the promise of hope and happiness. This is why the Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society chose it for their emblem, the emblem seen on the Society's cars and uniforms of all its servants.

This week the head physiotherapist for B.C., Mrs. Ruth Fortune, is on a tour of inspection of the 23 branches in the province.

On Monday she visited the clinic here and treatment centres in Oliver and Osoyoos. In the evening Mrs. Fortune was entertained by the Pentiction Branch W.A. For this informal gathering, Mrs. R. L. Smith lent her lovely garden.

Do you know any arthritis sufferers? Do you know how many there are around you? Would you like to belong to the group of helpers? Could you perhaps find time to visit the housebound? Better still, could you take someone for a short drive in the cool of the evening? If you can, phone 2268.

Physiotherapist Anne Houlton has between 70 and 80 patients, many of whom have of necessity to be treated in their homes. The clinic in the hospital is used to greater advantage. It is in this connection that our volunteer drivers render such valuable service.

Patients are expected to pay treatment fees if they can, but nobody is ever turned away if unable to do so. Branch funds are raised through United Appeal. For further information you should visit your CARS publicly booth at the Peach Festival.

SKIPPED HEART BEAT

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (UP) — Dr. Franklin Johnston, professor of internal medicine at the University of Michigan Medical School, says you shouldn't worry if your heart skips a beat now and then.

"Many people with no heart disease have transient skipping or irregularities of the heart," he said. "But individuals with symptoms of this kind should not jump to the conclusion that these sensations are indications of serious heart trouble."

Walrus got their name from Norse sailors, who called them "hvalross," whale horse.

Demand For Apples Holds Fairly Steady

Demand for early apples in Western Canada during the past week has remained fairly steady at current f.o.b. levels, B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd., announces in its current marketing report.

Deliveries thus far have been confined to Yellow Transparent and other varieties earlier than Duchess.

The Eastern Canadian markets continue to show interest in our early apples and several cars have been shipped to that area.

CHERRIES
Except for limited L.C.L. deliveries the Okanagan Cherry deal was completed last week-end. Carlot shipments of cherries are now going forward from the Kootenay districts — Nelson and Creston. Although markets in western Canada continue somewhat slowly, we have been able to clear all deliveries at current f.o.b. price levels.

APRICOTS
Olive-Osoyoos districts reached peak volume late last week, and daily deliveries from that area have tapered off, commencing Monday. The bulk of the crop in the Lake area will be harvested this week.

We are enjoying an active demand on most markets.

PLUMS
A few Peach Plums are now being delivered in the Okanagan, approximately two weeks earlier than a year ago.

PEACHES
Small quantities of Fishers and other early varieties have already been shipped. Harvesting of Rochesters and Red Haven

Mrs. Cliff Roughton with children, Jane-Ellen and Geoffrey, will leave this weekend to join Mr. Roughton in Vancouver where they will take up residence.

Among those in Naramata to attend the Smith-Raitt wedding on Saturday were Mr. and Mrs. Owen Daggart, Mrs. Minnie Daggart, Miss Mary Rushbury and Miss Joan Gray of Vancouver; and Mr. and Mrs. Don Loewen and small daughter of Princeton. They were guests at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Raitt while here.

Mrs. C. A. Hornsby and children Ronald, Ian and Ruth are here from Vancouver to visit her mother, Mrs. W. T. Nuttall.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Halstead of Winnipeg are current visitors in Naramata with Dr. W. J. Rosa. Mr. Halstead is principal of the Collegiate Department of the United Church College in Winnipeg.

Rev. R. P. Stoble, pastor of the Naramata United Church, will give the sermon at the Christian Leadership Training School outdoor chapel on Sunday at 11 a.m. Rev. G. W. Payne of Nelson, currently lecturing at the LTS, will be the evening speaker at the outdoor services to commence at 7 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Nettleton with daughters Sandra and Arlene left yesterday to spend a few days at Christina Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Eastwood and small granddaughter were here from Fernie to spend the weekend visiting Mr. and Mrs. Charles Young.

Fruit In Low Calorie Diets

There is an increasing demand by a large group of consumers for products which will help them control their weight by reducing calorie intake.

Diabetics are also required to follow restricted calorie and carbohydrate diets.

Fruits are low caloric foods. Although they supply some easily available energy they are low in fuel value. The fuel values of fruits are due almost entirely to the carbohydrates, primarily sugar and organic acids, which they contain.

In the past fruits have been mistakenly considered by many as luxuries, when in fact they provided an actual advantage in balancing a diet.

Adequate fruit enriches the vitamin intake without excessively increasing caloric intake, C. C. Strachan, Summerland Experimental Farm, Canada Department of Agriculture points out.

Fruits may be used as an important part of all reducing diets and in diets of people engaged in sedentary occupations. The characteristic high water content of fruits in some ways is an advantage. It makes the fruit palatable and refreshing. It provides an agreeable means of taking needed fluid and in the treatment of some illnesses fruits are a very important source of fluid.

Quite pleasing fruit products for dietetic uses have recently become available. The advent of a new type of pectin (low methoxyl) for the gelling agent and the development of approved non-nutritive sweeteners (saccharin and calcium or sodium cyclamate) has permitted the satisfactory preparation of jam-like products from fresh fruits without the addition of any sugar.

A small amount of sorbitol or glycerol is added to give the products a better "body" and the characteristic appearance of fruit in jams. Such a product has an attractive appearance and a pleasing flavor. It has only about one-quarter of the caloric value of ordinary jams.

For some time fruits canned in water have been used for dietetic purposes. Now the newly developed non-caloric sweeteners, calcium or sodium cyclamate give the canned dietetic product a much better flavor. The addition of a small amount of an agent such as carboxymethylcellulose to increase viscosity and give "body" makes the canned dietetic fruit more nearly like the regular sugar syrup canned product.
